- Modoc
- Confederated Tribes of Grand Ronde
- Shasta
- Takelma
- Tolowa Dee-ni'

We recognize the Indigenous peoples as the original stewards of this land.

As these words of acknowledgement are spoken and heard, the ties these nations have to their traditional homeland are renewed and reaffirmed

What We Learned About Regional Community Needs

FINDING	CBIAG ACTION
Achieving equity in a clean energy future means addressing a broad spectrum of needs (utility and nonutility)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• CBIAG members have a valuable lens on the needs of their stakeholders• Those needs and concerns will be used to identify and define equity impact areas in the transition to a clean energy future and shape the agenda toward achieving impact• CBIAG will provide a forum for education and collaboration, it will also look for meaningful ways to create concrete energy equity results in the community
Community based organizations are stretched thin addressing community needs (time, staff, development) and need support (relationships and resources)	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• CBIAG will provide a forum for development and community action• CBIAG members will be invited to bring mentors, colleagues to events for exposure and skill building• The CBIAG forum will strive to identify and support actions that create real world equitable results

Hybrid meeting format. We anticipate monthly meetings to alternate between hybrid (onsite in the community but also available online) and online presentation meetings. Hybrid onsite meeting locations will rotate between CBIAG communities, giving us a better understanding of the community’s lived experience and needs, in addition to the opportunity for relationship building.

Meeting approach and facilitation. The meeting will be facilitated by an energy equity focused third party: E Source. Hybrid meetings will generally focus on group collaborative geared toward applying tactics to advance energy equity in the community. Online only events will generally focus on education and information for CBIAG to put to work in the hybrid sessions.

Public attendance. CBIAG meetings are generally open to the public for observation (with anticipated opportunity for public comments during the meetings). Activities such as orientation, participation in discussion and facilitated breakout room activities will be limited to CBIAG members. CBIAG presentation and meeting notes will be posted to the Company’s HB2021 website for public review and comment.
