APPELLANTS' MOTION – TAKE JUDICIAL NOTICE

I. MOTION

Pursuant to OEC 201 and ORAP 7.05, Appellants PacifiCorp and Pacific Power (collectively, "PacifiCorp") respectfully move this Court for an order taking judicial notice of certain judicial records in James v. PacifiCorp, Multnomah County Circuit Court Case No. 20CV33885 (the "James Class Action") and Nordmo v. PacifiCorp, Multnomah County Circuit Court Case

No. 25CV46772 ("Damages Trial 15"), which is one of the jury trials conducted pursuant to the case management order entered by the trial court on July 28, 2025 ("CMO No. 11").

Specifically, PacifiCorp moves the Court to take judicial notice of the current trial schedule submitted in the James Class Action pursuant to CMO No. 11, the jury instructions given by the trial court in Damages Trial 15, and the jury's verdict in Damages Trial 15. The documents to be judicially noticed are attached hereto as Appendices A through C.

Plaintiffs-Respondents object to this Motion and intend to file a response.

II. INTRODUCTION

On February 25, 2026, the jury in Damages Trial 15—the third of approximately 165 jury trials scheduled by the trial court under CMO No. 11—awarded $242,000,000 in noneconomic damages to 16 class members—owners of real and personal property within the Santiam Canyon that was damaged in the Labor Day 2020 wildfire. Although the class involves no claim of physical injury or harm, the jury awarded uniform noneconomic damages of $18,500,000 to each of 12 adults regardless of any differences in the amount of property damaged, or past or future harm; and $5,000,000 to each of four minors, two of whom were too young to have any awareness of the events (two and three years old respectively) and two others who were not present during the fire (and owned minimal personal property affected by the fire).

As PacifiCorp explained in its Motion to Stay Trial Court Proceedings dated August 8, 2025 ("Motion to Stay") and in its briefs and at oral argument in this case, the trial court's decisions to certify a class (including within the Santiam Canyon) and to allow unlimited noneconomic damages awards are fundamentally flawed. And the result in Damages Trial 15 illustrates how a litany of legal errors has created the conditions for verdicts that are clearly erroneous. Class members are receiving $18,500,000 in noneconomic damages for emotional distress arising from safely evacuating a fire with personal property damages of less than $90,000, an award that eclipses cases involving catastrophic physical injury. See Busch v. McInnis Waste Sys., Inc., 366 Or 628, 468 P3d 419 (2020) ($10.5 million noneconomic damages; "plaintiff's leg was under the truck and attached to his body by a one-inch piece of skin. Plaintiff was fully conscious and alert, and he experienced tremendous pain. Plaintiff had surgery to amputate his leg just above the knee.").

The verdict from Damages Trial 15 has had an immediate impact. In direct response to the Damages Trial 15 verdict, on March 2, 2026, ratings agency S&P Global placed PacifiCorp on "CreditWatch Negative" and indicated that it may downgrade PacifiCorp further if future verdicts are similar to Damages Trial 15 or remain significant, even if smaller. S&P indicated that it will closely monitor verdicts in the coming weeks.

PacifiCorp seeks judicial notice of the verdict and other pertinent documents from Damages Trial 15. Those documents underscore the urgency of PacifiCorp's appeal.

III. ARGUMENT

A. The Court Shall Take Judicial Notice of Publicly Filed Documents

OEC 201(d) states that "[a] court shall take judicial notice if requested by a party and supplied with the necessary information." (Emphasis added.) Pursuant to OEC 201(b), a fact may be judicially noticed when it is "not subject to reasonable dispute in that it is * * * [c]apable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot be reasonably be questioned." OEC 201(b)(2); see also State v. Branch, 243 Or App 309, 259 P3d 103 (2011) ("Judicial notice typically refers to a court's ability to accept an indisputable and well-known fact without requiring proof from the parties, subject to the restrictions delineated in OEC 201."). OEC 201(f) further states that "[j]udicial notice may be taken at any stage of the proceeding." See also Ramoz v. Bd. of Parole & Post-Prison Supervision, 340 Or App 200, 201, 570 P3d 262 (2025) (taking judicial notice of "aspects of a prior judicial proceeding related to this case").

Publicly-filed documents, including court documents such as jury instructions and verdict forms, are facts that may be judicially noticed. See Eklof v. Steward, 360 Or 717, 723 n 4, 385 P3d 1074, 1078 (2016) (taking judicial notice of case registers); State v. McColly, 364 Or 464, 467 n 2 435 P3d 715 (2019) (in criminal action involving defendant's second-degree "failure to appear," the court took judicial notice of register and case file documents in underlying misdemeanor prosecution); In re Conduct of Ellis, 356 Or 691, 693 n 2, 344 P3d 425 (2015) (taking judicial notice of "additional facts drawn from judicial opinions and court dockets in a related criminal case prosecuted in" the District of Oregon); Ramoz, 340 Or App at 201 (judicial notice of prior judicial proceeding); see also White v. Premo, 365 Or 21, 24 n 3, 443 P3d 608 (2019) (taking judicial notice of sentencing hearing transcript for purposes of evaluating petitioner's sentence).

B. The James Class Action and CMO No. 11

The James Class Action is the subject of this appeal. As explained in Appellants' Motion to Stay Trial Court Proceedings dated August 8, 2025, through CMO No. 11, the trial court created a process for administering and adjudicating the individual claims of the class members in the James Class Action. CMO No. 11 requires that the parties have four jury trials per month (one per week) beginning in February 2026, and two trials per week beginning in January 2027. Each trial will consist of up to six households and aim for a total of at least 10 plaintiffs per trial. Trials will occur over the course of up to nine trial days (meaning that in 2026, at least two trials will be going at any given time, and in 2027, at least four will be going at any time). Each class member is seeking up to $25 million in noneconomic damages, meaning that each trial will involve a minimum of $250 million in potential liability per trial. Unlike Damages Trial 13 held on February 2, 2026, which involved two plaintiffs, nearly every trial in the coming weeks involves more than 10 plaintiffs per trial. Appendix A reflects the current trial schedule pursuant to CMO No. 11.

C. Damages Trial 15

Damages Trial 15 is the third trial conducted pursuant to CMO No. 11 (and the fifteenth damages trial conducted in Phase II of the underlying class action that presently is on appeal). Damages Trial 15 began on February 17, 2026, and it adjudicated the claims of 16 plaintiffs (including four minors and one estate).[1] All 16 plaintiffs claimed to own real and/or personal property that "experienced fire activity" within the boundary of the geographic area designated as the "Santiam Canyon Fire," and each of them sought economic and noneconomic damages for property damage alone. No plaintiff offered any proof of any bodily injury, as such claims are not within the class definition of the James Class Action.

Before trial, the parties stipulated to the Damages Trial 15 plaintiffs' economic damages, which were reflected in the jury instructions given by the trial court on February 23, 2026. (Appendix B.) The economic damages totaled $1,284,849 (prior to the application of any multiplier or insurance payment offsets).

On February 25, 2026, the jury rendered its verdict as to noneconomic damages, awarding $18,500,000 for each of the twelve adult plaintiffs (one of whom was an estate) and $5,000,000 for each of the four minors, for a total noneconomic damages award of $242,000,000—188.3 times the economic damages awards for property loss.

The following is a breakdown of the economic and noneconomic damages awards for each plaintiff:[2]

Plaintiffs	Noneconomic Damages	Economic Damages
Robert Black	$18,500,000	$85,603.00
Guy Edgerton	$18,500,000	$185,981.00
Dimond Edge	$18,500,000

[2] The economic damages were awarded to each respective household based on the affected property address. As noted above, these amounts do not include any multipliers or offsets. Nor do they include any punitive damages.

Robin Hamlin	$18,500,000	$170,012.00
Kevin Muniz	$18,500,000	$22,325.00
Stacey Nordmo	$18,500,000	$638,578.00
Erick Nordmo	$18,500,000
Estate of Rachel Nordmo	$18,500,000
Robert Shellabarger	$18,500,000	$124,286.00
Miranda Smith	$18,500,000
R.S., a minor proceeding by and through their guardian ad litem, Miranda Smith	$5,000,000
A.C., a minor proceeding by and through their guardian ad litem, Miranda Smith	$5,000,000
Cora Young	$18,500,000	$58,064.00
Robert Young	$18,500,000
E.G., a minor proceeding by and through their guardian ad litem, Cora Young	$5,000,000
J.Y., a minor proceeding by and through their guardian ad litem, Cora Young	$5,000,000
TOTAL	$242,000,000	$1,284,849

Here, there can be no dispute that the attached jury instructions were given by the trial court in Damages Trial 15. (Appendix B.) Nor can there be a dispute that the jury rendered the attached verdict in Damages Trial 15. (Appendix C.) The Court can accept those indisputable facts without requiring proof from any of the parties, and their accuracy cannot reasonably be questioned. See OEC 201(b). Moreover, both documents are part of this same proceeding given that they resulted from one of the damages trials conducted pursuant to CMO No. 11 with respect to the claims of certain members of the certified class.

Those judicially noticeable documents underscore the flaws in the current process and the statewide importance of the issues presented in this appeal. Pursuant to the trial court's ruling allowing unlimited noneconomic damages for James Class Action class members, including class members living in the Santiam Canyon, a minor (J.Y.) who was two years old in 2020, does not remember safely evacuating from his grandparents' house, and suffered only fire damage to personal property, received $5,000,000 in noneconomic damages. J.Y.'s family received a total of $47,000,000 in noneconomic damages compared to $58,064 in economic damages for personal property loss. Another plaintiff, Kevin Muniz, received $18,500,000 in noneconomic damages compared to $22,325 in economic damages for personal property loss. And the one estate plaintiff, Rachel Nordmo, received the same noneconomic damages as the other adult plaintiffs, despite having no future emotional harm or disruption to daily life.

Given the jury instructions—which devote pages to explaining the nature of PacifiCorp's conduct and legal definitions irrelevant to the jury's determination of damages but expressly decline to inform the jury of the prior punitive damages award—and Plaintiffs' emphasis on PacifiCorp's corporate identity and the Phase I jury's findings of gross negligence and recklessness, the only explanation for such outsized verdicts is punishment of a corporate defendant.

With this one jury verdict alone, noneconomic damages in excess of $300 million were awarded against PacifiCorp (when the double damages and punitive damages multipliers are applied). And there are hundreds more trials to follow under CMO No. 11. The irreparable harm of continuing with those CMO No. 11 trials—each of which exposes PacifiCorp to similar liability and requires the expenditure of judicial and party resources on a legally flawed proceeding—is readily apparent.

IV. CONCLUSION

Accordingly, PacifiCorp respectfully requests that the Court take judicial notice of the documents contained within the Appendices. Those documents demonstrate that the current path is untenable, risks a further massive waste of resources, and imperils one of the state's public utilities providing power to millions of customers.

For the reasons outlined in PacifiCorp's Opening and Reply Briefs and as explained during oral argument on February 4, 2026, the Court should decertify the class, direct the entry of a verdict in PacifiCorp's favor on the class claims and vacate the noneconomic damages awards and/or vacate the Phase II trial verdicts, and it should do so expeditiously to put a halt to the continuing harm that will flow from additional future trials under CMO No. 11.

Defendants.

No. 25CV46772

JURY INSTRUCTIONS

Trial Date: February 17, 2026

Trial Judge: Honorable Adele Ridenour

INTRODUCTION

Today we select a jury for the case of: Nordmo, et al. versus PacifiCorp and Pacific Power. I am Judge Ridenour, and I will keep order, rule on questions of law, and instruct you on the law. This is Alma Avena, who will swear witnesses, help with exhibits, and make sure everything that's said is recorded. The clerk is your contact during this trial. The jury will decide the facts and apply the facts to the law I provide.

This is a civil case, not a criminal case. You may have seen criminal cases on TV or in the movies and know that a prosecutor must prove the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. Civil cases are different. In a civil case, like this one, the party who has to prove something only has to prove that it is more likely true than not true.

The plaintiffs in this case are Robert Black, Dimond Edge, Guy Edgerton, Robin Hamlin, Kevin Muniz, Erick Nordmo, Stacey Nordmo, the Estate of Rachel Nordmo, Robert Shellabarger, Miranda Smith, Ayden Coffman, Rayvin Shellabarger, Cora Young, Emillee Guzman, Jacob Young, and Robert Young. Will the attorneys for the Plaintiffs please introduce yourselves to the jury.

The defendants are PacifiCorp and Pacific Power. PacifiCorp is a corporation that owns a private electric company that does business in Oregon using the name Pacific Power. Both entities will be referred to collectively throughout this trial as PacifiCorp or Defendant.

Will the attorneys for Defendants please introduce yourselves to the jury.

This case is a civil class action related to the fire at issue in this trial. The fire started in Oregon on September 7 and 8, 2020.

This is the second phase of this class action. In the first phase, a jury made the following findings:

1. The Defendant was negligent in one or more ways the Plaintiffs claim as to the entire class within the boundaries of the Santiam Canyon Fire.
2. The Defendant's negligence was the cause of harm to the entire class within the boundaries of the fire area at issue in this trial.
3. The Defendant was grossly negligent in one or more ways the Plaintiffs claim as to the entire class within the boundaries of the Santiam Canyon Fire.
4. The Defendant's gross negligence was the cause of harm to the entire class within the boundaries of the fire area at issue in this trial.
5. The Defendant's conduct was reckless as to the entire class within the boundaries of the fire area at issue in this trial.

6. The Defendant's conduct was willful as to the entire class within the boundaries of the fire area at issue in this trial.
7. The Defendant's conduct constituted a private nuisance as to the entire class within the boundaries of the Santiam Canyon Fire.
8. The Defendant's private nuisance was the cause of harm to the entire class within the boundaries of the fire area at issue in this trial.
9. The Defendant's conduct constituted a public nuisance as to the entire class within the boundaries of the Santiam Canyon Fire.
10. The Defendant's public nuisance was the cause of harm to the entire class within the boundaries of the fire area at issue in this trial.
11. The Defendant's conduct constituted a trespass as to the entire class within the boundaries of the Santiam Canyon Fire.
12. The Defendant's trespass was the cause of harm to the entire class within the boundaries of the fire area at issue in this trial.

The rules of evidence allow the court to take judicial notice of certain adjudicative facts. I instruct you to accept the above findings made by the jury in Phase I as conclusive. This means that although no party has offered (or will offer) evidence to prove the above findings in this trial, you must accept the findings as conclusive. Conclusive means that you may not question the above findings made in Phase I and must treat them as established in this trial.

The jury in the first phase was not tasked with determining the damages, if any, for the Plaintiffs in this trial.

Next, I will read a summary of the pleadings in this trial.

In this trial, Plaintiffs are members of the class who owned real property, and/or personal property that experienced fire activity during the fire at issue in this trial. Plaintiffs seek damages and compensation from PacifiCorp for harms Plaintiffs claim they suffered as a result of PacifiCorp's liability for the fire in Phase I (based on the specified findings above). More specifically, Plaintiffs claim they have incurred economic damages and noneconomic damages, including mental suffering, emotional distress, inconvenience, and interference with their normal and usual activities. PacifiCorp stipulates and does not dispute that Plaintiffs owned property within the boundaries of the fire for which Defendant was found liable and stipulates to economic damages in the amounts sought by each Plaintiff as a result of such fire. Subject to Plaintiffs' proof at trial, PacifiCorp may dispute the extent of noneconomic damages Plaintiffs sustained. PacifiCorp denies Plaintiffs' claims for noneconomic damages and their entitlement to the claimed noneconomic damages sought. PacifiCorp also alleges certain defenses. What I have just read is a summary of the pleadings, you are not to take anything in them as true unless it is admitted or proved by the evidence.

In this second phase, the issue for you to determine is the amount of noneconomic damages to be awarded to each Plaintiff sustained as a result of PacifiCorp's liability in Phase I (as specified in the findings above). To assist you in understanding what your task will be if you are selected to serve on the jury in this case, I will now instruct you on what economic and noneconomic damages are.

Economic damages in this case mean the sum of:

1. The difference between the fair market value of property immediately before and immediately after a fire, or the cost of restoring property to the condition it was in immediately before a fire, whichever is less; and
2. Any other objectively verifiable monetary losses.
3. The actual value of personal property is to be ascertained from the evidence of value but should not include any amount for the fanciful or sentimental value that the Plaintiffs may attach to the personal property.

Noneconomic damages are the subjective, nonmonetary losses that a Plaintiff has sustained or probably will sustain in the future.

The law does not furnish you with any fixed standard by which to measure the exact amount of noneconomic damages. However, the law requires that all damages awarded be reasonable. You must apply your own considered judgment, therefore, to determine the amount of noneconomic damages.

In determining the amount of noneconomic damages, consider each of the following:

1. The mental suffering and emotional distress that the Plaintiff has sustained from the time the Plaintiff was injured until the present and that the Plaintiff probably will sustain in the future as the result of the Plaintiff's injuries; and
2. Any inconvenience and interference with the Plaintiff's normal and usual activities apart from activities in a gainful occupation that you find have been sustained from the time the Plaintiff was injured until the present and that the Plaintiff probably will sustain in the future as the result of the Plaintiff's injuries.

You must be able to judge this case fairly and objectively, or you should not serve on this particular jury. I will begin with four questions:

The first question is do any of you know the Plaintiffs, Defendants, or any of the attorneys? If so, please raise your hand.

Next, will counsel for the Plaintiffs please read the names of your fact witnesses and expert witnesses that may be called as witnesses in this case. Jurors, if any of these names are familiar to you, or if you know any of these people, please raise your hand.

- Robert Black, Dimond Edge, Guy Edgerton, Robin Hamlin, Kevin Muniz, Erick Nordmo, Stacey Nordmo, Robert Shellabarger, Miranda Smith, Cora Young, Suzanne Best, and Tess Neal

Next, will counsel for the Defendants please read the names of your fact witnesses and expert witnesses that may be called as witnesses in this case. Jurors, if any of these names are familiar to you, or if you know any of these people, please raise your hand.

The fourth question is, based on what you know from the case summary given a few moments ago, do any of you feel that your personal views concerning this type of case, or any biases you may have, might affect your ability to be fair and impartial about this trial? If so, please raise your hand.

Soon, the attorneys will ask you questions. The purpose of their questions is not to argue the case or embarrass you, but to determine who will serve on this particular jury. Please respond to the attorneys' questions openly, honestly, sincerely, and completely. If you do not understand a question, please ask that it be repeated for you.

Since you are in an unfamiliar setting among strangers, it may be uncomfortable for you to be open, honest, and complete in your answers to the attorneys' questions. This process requires you to overcome your discomfort and do your best to be open, honest, and complete when you answer. It is extremely important, and the fairness of this trial depends on it. If you are asked a question that involves something you consider very sensitive or private, tell us so. We can arrange to receive your answer outside the presence of other jurors.

When the attorneys finish their questions, you will be excused briefly, then we will bring you back and release those of you who will not be on the jury. If you are not selected for this jury, please do not feel that your attendance was without value. The court needs a substantial group of available jurors so an impartial jury can be selected. All of you here today provide an important contribution to the process because your presence assures fairness.

PRECAUTIONARY INSTRUCTIONS

Members of the jury, these instructions contain part of the law that applies to this case. After you hear the evidence and before the arguments of the attorneys, I will give you further instructions regarding the legal rules you must follow in deciding this case.

You are here to decide the facts of this case from the evidence and to apply those facts to the law that I will give you. That is how you will reach your verdict. In doing so, you must follow the law whether you agree with it or not. Do not allow any sympathy, prejudice or bias—whether conscious or unconscious—to influence your decision making. You must not be biased in favor of or against any party, witness, or attorney because of the persons' disability, gender, gender identity, race, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, age, national origin, or socio-economic status.

Unconscious bias is a term used by social scientists to describe the reality that everyone has feelings, assumptions, perceptions, fears, and stereotypes, that is, "unconscious biases," that we may not be aware of. These hidden thoughts can affect what we see and hear, how we remember what we see and hear, how we interact with others, and how we make important decisions. Our biases can affect how we act, favorably or unfavorably, toward someone. You should make every effort to be aware of your unconscious biases and what effect those may have on your decision making.

The evidence you are to consider in this case consists of witness testimony and exhibits received in evidence. Exhibits are physical things such as letters, photographs, charts, or other objects. You will be able to examine the exhibits received in evidence while you deliberate. You must decide how believable the evidence is and what weight or value you will give to that evidence. You may draw any reasonable inferences from the evidence, but you must not guess or speculate.

If an attorney objects to evidence, I will decide if it is proper under the law for you to consider such evidence. Do not speculate about why the attorney objected or why I ruled as I did. If I overrule an objection, the question may be answered, or the exhibit received. If I sustain an objection, the question cannot be answered, or the exhibit cannot be received. Whenever I sustain an objection to a question, ignore the question and do not guess what the answer would have been. Sometimes I may order that evidence be stricken from the record and that you disregard or ignore the evidence. When you are deciding the case, you must not consider the evidence that I told you to disregard.

The attorneys' opening statements and closing arguments are not part of the evidence but are intended to help you understand the evidence and apply the law. You must not interpret any statement, ruling, or remark I make during this trial as any indication that I have formed any opinion about the facts or outcome of this case. You, and you alone, are to decide the facts.

You must decide this case based only on the evidence received here in this courtroom. You are not allowed to do any independent research on any idea, location, or person connected to this case. The law forbids you from seeking information from any source outside this courtroom.

Until you retire to deliberate, you may not discuss this case with anyone, including each other, friends, or family members. When you deliberate, you may discuss the case with each other, but you may not discuss the case with anyone else until after you are discharged at the end of the case.

Although many of you use cell phones, the Internet, and other tools of technology, communicating with others about the case before it ends is strictly prohibited. You may not communicate by cell phone, smartphone, email, Blackberry, iPhone, text messaging, on Twitter, through any blog or Web site, Internet chat room, or by way of any other social networking Web sites, including Facebook, LinkedIn, and YouTube.

The court recognizes that these rules may require you to refrain from activities that may be very common and important in your daily lives. However, the law requires these restrictions to ensure the parties have a fair trial based on evidence that each party has had an opportunity to address. If one or more of you were to get additional information from an outside source, that information might be inaccurate or incomplete, or it may not apply to this case, and the parties would not have a chance to explain or contradict that information because they wouldn't know about it. That’s why it is so important that you base your verdict only on information you receive in this courtroom.

Any juror who violates these restrictions jeopardizes the fairness of these proceedings, and a mistrial could result that would require the entire trial process to start over. As you can imagine, a mistrial is a tremendous expense and inconvenience to the parties, the court, and the taxpayers. If any juror is exposed to any outside information, or has any difficulty whatsoever in following these instructions, please notify the court immediately. If any juror becomes aware that one of your fellow jurors has done something that violates these instructions, you are obligated to report that to the court. If anyone tries to contact you about the case, either directly or indirectly, or sends you any information about the case, please report this promptly as well.

These restrictions remain in effect throughout this trial. Once the trial is over, you will be free to read or research anything you wish, and you will be free to talk to anyone, or write, or post, or tweet about the case if you choose to do so. The only limitation is that you must wait until after the verdict, when you have been discharged from your jury service.

Please understand why the law limits such communication. The attorneys and parties have selected you, and only you, as the people they want to make this very important decision for them. The attorneys did not choose anyone else in your family or social circle, or anyone in the virtual world of the Internet. They chose you. It is not fair to the parties to have people they never met, with backgrounds they do not know, influencing the decision in this case. That is why the law does not allow it.

At the end of the trial, you will have to make your decision based on what you recall of the evidence. You will not have a written transcript to consult, and it is so difficult to play back recorded testimony that it is not typically done even when requested. I urge you to pay close attention to the testimony as it is given.

You may take notes, if you wish, during the trial. If you take notes, don't let your note-taking interfere with your ability to observe the witnesses and evaluate their testimony. Don't feel obligated to take notes just because we have notepads. Taking notes helps some people listen and remember, but for others it gets in the way, and they remember better if they don't try to take notes. Do whatever works for you. Whenever you leave the courtroom, you may leave your notes on your chair in the jury box or take them to the jury room. Do not take them out of the courthouse. During deliberations each juror needs to make up his or her own mind about the facts. Don't rely on someone else's notes, especially if they conflict with your own memory.

Soon we will hear the opening statements, in which the attorneys will outline the evidence as they expect it to be. After the opening statements, the evidence will be presented. At the conclusion of the evidence, you will hear the attorneys' closing arguments and instructions about the law that applies to this case before you begin your deliberations.

FUNCTIONS OF THE COURT AND JURY

It is solely your responsibility to make all the decisions about the facts in this case. You must evaluate the evidence to determine how reliable or how believable that evidence is. When you make your decision about the facts, you must then apply the legal rules to those facts and reach your verdict.

Remember, however, that your power to reach a verdict is not arbitrary. When the court tells you what the law is on a particular subject or tells you how to evaluate certain evidence, you must follow these instructions.

Do not allow anything that the court has said or done, or the fact that the court gives any particular instruction, to suggest that the court has formed any opinion about this case. When the court has sustained objections to evidence, or ordered that evidence be stricken or excluded from your consideration, you must follow the court's rulings. Do not consider such matters during your deliberations. Base your verdict on the evidence and these instructions. The attorneys' statements and arguments are not evidence. If your recollection of the evidence is different from the attorney's recollection, you must rely on your own memory.

In deciding this case, you are to consider all the evidence that you find worthy of belief. It is your duty to weigh the evidence calmly and dispassionately and to decide this case on its merits. Do not decide this case on guesswork, conjecture, or speculation.

You should make every effort to be aware of your biases, including unconscious biases, and what effect those may have on your decision making. In your deliberations, you must not be biased in favor of or against any party, witness, or attorney because of the person's disability, gender, gender identity, race, religion, ethnicity, sexual orientation, age, national origin, or socioeconomic status. We all have feelings, assumptions, perceptions, fears, and stereotypes about others. Some biases we are aware of, and others we may not be fully aware of. These hidden thoughts can affect what we see and hear, how we remember what we see and hear, how we interact with others, and how we make important decisions.

All parties are equal before the law, so do not allow any personal feelings, sympathy, prejudice, or bias--whether conscious or unconscious--to influence your decision making.

Generally, the testimony of any witness whom you believe is sufficient to prove any fact in dispute. You are not simply to count the witnesses, but you are to weigh the evidence.

Keep in mind that each party is entitled to the considered decision of each juror. Therefore, you should not give undue weight to another juror's notes if those notes conflict with your recollection of the evidence.

EVIDENCE

Evidence can come in many forms. It can be testimony about what someone saw or heard or smelled. It can be an exhibit admitted into evidence. It can be someone's opinion.

Some evidence may prove a fact directly, such as testimony of a witness who saw a jet plane fly across the sky. Some evidence may prove a fact indirectly, such as testimony of a witness who saw only a white trail that jet planes often leave. This indirect evidence is sometimes referred to as "circumstantial evidence." Either way, the witness's testimony is evidence that a jet plane flew across the sky.

As far as the law is concerned, it makes no difference whether evidence is direct or indirect. You may choose to believe or disbelieve either kind. Whether it is direct or indirect, you should give all evidence whatever weight you think it deserves.

EVALUATING WITNESS TESTIMONY

The term witness includes every person who has testified in this case. Every witness has taken an oath to tell the truth. You may believe everything a witness says, or part of it, or none of it. In considering the testimony of any witness, you may take into account:

(1) The opportunity and ability of the witness to see, hear, or know about the things the witness told you.

(2) The witness's memory.

(3) The witness's manner while testifying.

(4) The witness's interest in the outcome of the case and any bias or prejudice.

(5) Whether other evidence contradicted the witness's testimony.

(6) The reasonableness of the witness's testimony in light of all the evidence.

PLEADINGS AND ISSUES

The questions to be decided in a lawsuit are defined in certain documents that the parties filed with the court, which are known collectively as the pleadings. These consist of the Plaintiff's complaint, which sets forth the Plaintiff's claims; and the Defendant's answer, in which the Defendant either admits or denies the Plaintiff's claims and sets forth any additional defenses on which the Defendant relies. By these pleadings, questions of fact are presented, and it is only these questions that are submitted for the jury's determination.

In this trial, Plaintiffs are members of the class who owned real property, and/or personal property that experienced fire activity during the fire at issue in this trial. Plaintiffs seek damages and compensation from PacifiCorp for harms Plaintiffs claim they suffered as a result of PacifiCorp's liability for the fire in Phase I (based on the specified findings on pages 2-3 above). More specifically, Plaintiffs claim they have incurred economic damages and noneconomic damages, including mental suffering, emotional distress, inconvenience, and interference with their normal and usual activities. PacifiCorp stipulates and does not dispute that Plaintiffs owned property within the boundaries of a fire for which Defendant was found liable and stipulates to economic damages in the amounts sought by each Plaintiff as a result of such fire. Subject to Plaintiffs' proof at trial, PacifiCorp may dispute the extent of noneconomic damages Plaintiffs sustained. PacifiCorp denies Plaintiffs' claims for noneconomic damages and their entitlement to the claimed noneconomic damages sought. PacifiCorp also alleges certain defenses. What I have just read is a summary of the pleadings, you are not to take anything in them as true unless it is admitted or proved by the evidence.

In this second phase, the issue for you to determine is the amount of noneconomic damages to be awarded to each Plaintiff sustained as a result of PacifiCorp's liability in Phase I (as specified in the findings above).

STIPULATIONS OF FACT

The parties agree, or stipulate, that:

1. Each Plaintiff in this trial is a class member.

2. The plaintiffs who are minors did not testify in this trial. The fact that the minor plaintiffs did not testify cannot be considered as a factor for or against that minor plaintiff's claim or the amount of their damages.

3. Plaintiff Robert Black's economic damages are $85,603.00.

2. Plaintiffs Guy Edgerton & Dimond Edge's economic damages are $185,981.00.

3. Plaintiff Robin Hamlin's economic damages are $170,012.00.

4. Plaintiff Kevin Muniz's economic damages are $22,325.00.

5. Plaintiffs Stacey Nordmo, Erick Nordmo, & the estate of Rachel Nordmo's economic damages are $638,578.00.

6. Plaintiffs Robert Shellabarger, Miranda Smith, R.S, and A.C.'s economic damages are $124,286.00.

7. Plaintiff Cora Young and Robert Young, E.G., and J.Y.'s economic damages are $58,064.00.

You should treat these facts as having been proved.

BURDEN OF PROOF

A party must prove any claim that party has made. This is called the burden of proof. In this case, the Plaintiffs must prove their claims by a preponderance of the evidence.

PREPONDERANCE OF THE EVIDENCE

When a party must prove a claim by a preponderance of the evidence, that party must persuade you by evidence that makes you believe the claim is more likely true than not true.

After weighing all of the evidence, if you cannot decide that something is more likely true than not true, you must conclude that the party did not prove it. You should consider all of the evidence, no matter who produced it.

In criminal trials, the state must prove that the person charged with a crime is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. That is not the standard to use in this civil trial. Instead, the party who is required to prove something by a preponderance of the evidence only has to prove that it is more likely true than not true.

ABILITY TO PAY

The jury is not to consider whether any of the parties in this action has insurance or the ability to pay for any liability, loss, damage, or injury. Whether any party has insurance or the ability to pay has no bearing on the issues that you are to decide.

DEFINITIONS

1. NEGLIGENT CONDUCT DEFINED

The law requires every person to use reasonable care to avoid harming others. A person's conduct is negligent if that person fails to use reasonable care.

Reasonable care is the degree of care and judgment used by reasonably careful people in the management of their own affairs to avoid harming themselves or others. A person fails to use reasonable care when that person does something that a reasonably careful person would not do or fails to do something that a reasonably careful person would do under similar circumstances.

2. GROSS NEGLIGENCE DEFINED

Gross negligence is negligence that is materially greater than the mere absence of reasonable care under the circumstances. Gross negligence is characterized by conscious indifference to or reckless disregard of the rights of others.

3. RECKLESS DEFINED

Reckless or recklessness means an intentional doing or failing to do an act when one knows or has reason to know of facts which would lead a reasonable person to realize that their conduct not only creates unreasonable risk of harm to others but also involves a high degree of probability that substantial harm would result.

4. WILLFUL DEFINED

Willful or willfulness means doing an act in a way that is voluntary and intentional, but not necessarily malicious or blamable. A person acts willfully when the person knows what they are doing, intends to do what they are doing, and is a free agent.

5. PRIVATE NUISANCE DEFINED

A private nuisance is a substantial and unreasonable interference with the use and enjoyment of land.

6. PUBLIC NUISANCE DEFINED

A public nuisance is reckless or negligent conduct that unreasonably interferes with a right that is common to all members of the public and causes a harm to the Plaintiff distinct and different from the harm caused to the public at large.

7. TRESPASS TO LAND DEFINED

Trespass to land is an unauthorized entry of land in the exclusive possession of another. A trespass may occur by some act or force that a party sets in motion or may occur when a person enters or remains upon the land of another.

CAUSATION--"BUT FOR"

One of the issues for you to determine is whether or not the Plaintiffs have sustained harm "as a result of" PacifiCorp's liability in Phase I (as specified in the findings above). The Plaintiffs' harm is sustained "as a result of" (or, caused by) PacifiCorp's liability in Phase I (as specified in the findings above) means: the harm would not have occurred but for that conduct (i.e., PacifiCorp's liability in Phase I); conversely, the Defendant's conduct (i.e., PacifiCorp's liability in Phase I) is not a cause of the Plaintiffs' harm if that harm would have occurred without that conduct.

DAMAGES—PRELIMINARY INSTRUCTION

The issue for you to determine in this trial is the amount of damages to be awarded to each of the Plaintiffs as a result of PacifiCorp's liability in Phase I (as specified in the findings above). In determining the amount of damages to award in this case, you may only award noneconomic damages for harm caused to the 16 Plaintiffs and not for harm to other persons, including family members of Plaintiffs or other members of the community. You may not award damages for harm to public property or private property owned by others.

The fact that I am instructing you with respect to damages is not to be considered by you as an attempt by the court to suggest that you should or should not award damages.

Nor should the amount claimed for damages by the Plaintiffs in the complaint be considered by you in arriving at your verdict except in one respect: that is, the amount of damages claimed is the maximum amount you can award the Plaintiffs.

There are two types of damages alleged in this case, economic and noneconomic damages.

Economic damages mean the sum of:

1. The difference between the fair market value of property immediately before and immediately after a fire, or the cost of restoring property to the condition it was in immediately before a fire, whichever is less; and

2. Any other objectively verifiable monetary losses.

3. The actual value of personal property is to be ascertained from the evidence of value but should not include any amount for the fanciful or sentimental value that the Plaintiffs may attach to the personal property.

The parties have stipulated to specific amounts of economic damages for each Plaintiff. You must determine the amount of noneconomic damages to award each Plaintiff. Of the noneconomic damages, you should consider those which you find to have been sustained by the Plaintiffs as a result of the Defendant's fault.

The Plaintiff must prove noneconomic damages by a preponderance of the evidence. I will now explain noneconomic damages.

NONECONOMIC DAMAGES

Noneconomic damages are the subjective, nonmonetary losses that a Plaintiff has sustained or probably will sustain in the future.

The law does not furnish you with any fixed standard by which to measure the exact amount of noneconomic damages. However, the law requires that all damages awarded be reasonable. You must apply your own considered judgment, therefore, to determine the amount of noneconomic damages.

In determining the amount of noneconomic damages, consider each of the following:

1. The mental suffering and emotional distress that the Plaintiff has sustained from the time the Plaintiff was injured until the present and that the Plaintiff probably will sustain in the future as the result of the Plaintiff's injuries; and
2. Any inconvenience and interference with the Plaintiff's normal and usual activities apart from activities in a gainful occupation that you find have been sustained from the time the Plaintiff was injured until the present and that the Plaintiff probably will sustain in the future as the result of the Plaintiff's injuries.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Robert Black may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Dimond Edge may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Guy Edgerton may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Robin Hamlin may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Kevin Muniz may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Erick Nordmo may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Stacey Nordmo may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for the Estate of Rachel Nordmo may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Robert Shellabarger may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for Miranda Smith may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for A.C. may not exceed $25,000,000.

The total amount of noneconomic damages for R.S. may not exceed $25,000,000.

DAMAGES—AGGRAVATION OF PREEXISTING INJURY OR DISABILITY

In the present case some Plaintiffs alleged that the injuries they sustained as the result of the negligence of the Defendants aggravated a preexisting mental health condition.

In determining the amount of damages, if any, to be awarded the Plaintiffs in this case, you will allow them reasonable compensation for the consequences of any such aggravation that you find to have taken place as the result of the Defendant's negligence.

The recovery should not include damages for the earlier mental health condition but only those that are due to its enhancement or aggravation.

VERDICT

When you return to the jury room, select one of your members to act as presiding juror. The presiding juror is to participate like all other jurors and has no greater weight or voice than any other juror. After selecting your presiding juror, deliberate until you reach your verdict. You may conduct your deliberations any way you wish, but most juries find it helpful to discuss the evidence before taking any votes.

You will have the following verdict form with you in the jury room: [read verdict form].

Answer the questions according to the directions on the form and all the instructions of the court.

This is a civil case. At least nine jurors must agree on an answer. However, it is not necessary that the same nine jurors agree with respect to each answer. For example, nine jurors may reach a verdict on a particular plaintiff's claim for noneconomic damages, but a different group of nine jurors may reach a verdict on another plaintiff's claim for noneconomic damages.

When you have answered each question you are required to answer, your presiding juror should insert the answers on the verdict form, sign and date the verdict form, and then signal my judicial clerk.

Court will then reconvene and receive your verdict.

WRITTEN INSTRUCTIONS

The court has prepared written instructions for your use. When you use these written instructions, do not place undue emphasis on any particular instruction, but rather consider the instructions as a whole.

VERDICT FORM

As you have been instructed, at least nine jurors must agree on an answer. However, it is not necessary that the same nine jurors agree with respect to each answer. For example, nine jurors may reach a verdict on a particular plaintiff's claim for noneconomic damages, but a different group of nine jurors may reach a verdict on a different plaintiff's claim for noneconomic damages.
